TOGNINALI FARM STOCKTON, CALIFORNIA

~~~~~See map other side~~~~~

You're invited to attend the bell pepper variety trial Field Day. This variety trial is to evaluate and compare new and established pepper varieties for field hardiness and marketable qualities. There are 15 replicated varieties in the trial representing two seed companies and 16 observational (specialty) varieties. The field was transplanted on 8 May 2006 at Togninali Farms near the junction of Hwy 4 and Jack Tone Road. Stop by and take a look at the differences in plant hardiness and fruit set in this odd weather year that we have had. Everyone is welcome.
